COLLEGE NOTICE

TRANSFER OF ACTIVITIES FROM DEPARTMENT OF HUMANITIES

---

The Department of Humanities will be disbanded on 1 August 2012, with its activities transferring to other parts of the College. From that date:

- The School for Professional Development will expand and consist of three main centres:
  - Education Development and Support – incorporating the Education Development Unit and the English Language Support Programme.
  - Co-curricular Studies – incorporating the Languages Unit and the Science Communication Unit.
  - Continuing Professional Development.
- The Translation Group will transfer to Library Services, supported by the School of Professional Development which will be responsible for the quality assurance of the Group's postgraduate courses.

The Centre for the History of Science, Technology and Medicine has been the responsibility of Professor Donal Bradley, Pro Rector (Research), since it transferred from the Department of Humanities in February 2012.
