COLLEGE NOTICE

HEAD OF THE DEPARTMENT OF LIFE SCIENCES

Professor Daniel Davis has accepted appointment as Head of the Department of Life Sciences in the Faculty of Natural Sciences, with effect from 1 October 2022, for a term of office of five years. He will also hold the post of Chair in Immunology within the department. Professor Davis will succeed the current Head of the Department, Professor Anne Dell CBE FRS FMedSci.

Professor Davis is currently Professor of Immunology at the University of Manchester, where he is also Director of Research in the Manchester Collaborative Centre for Inflammation Research and Head of the Cellular Immunology Section of the Lydia Becker Institute. He worked at Imperial from 1999 until 2012, most recently as Head of the Immunology Section in the Department of Life Sciences

Professor Davis's research focuses on visualising molecular recognition by immune cells using a variety of fluorescence techniques, including super-resolution microscopy. He is the author of three popular science books published by Penguin Random House and translated into 15 languages. He was also elected a Fellow of The Academy of Medical Sciences in 2011.
