

THIS WEEK

30th August 2022

Please welcome Enoch who has joined the MAP team as Data Manager, Sandra who has joined Marco's lab as a Research Technician and Ziba who has joined the Ye Lab as a Research Technician!

Goodbye and best of luck to Callum, Lucy, Emma + all the project students who have left!

Upcoming grants:

UK DRI Connectome
Registration now open!

UK DRI 3Rs prize
Closing 12th September 4pm

Prize for Computational Reproducibility in Dementia Research
Deadline 2nd October

UK DRI Collaborative Proteomics Studies
Opens 16th September | Deadline 1st November

UK DRI Translation Awards
Opening September | Deadline 10th November

UK DRI Pilot Awards Programme
Opening September | Deadline 8th December
Postdocs - start a conversation with your supervisor about preparing an application.

Upcoming seminars/events:

Novel mechanisms, tools, and therapies in neuroinflammation
8-9 September | King's College London
Last day to register Friday 2nd September

How to best position a manuscript to maximise chances of acceptance - Dr Karli Montague-Cardoso
1-2pm 9th September | Wolfson LT 3

UK DRI at King's Plenary Lecture
9am 9th September
T:B collaboration and human MS, from basic mechanisms to application in human disease- Prof Vijay Kuchroo

Neurogenomics Seminars - Xin Jin - Scripps
3-4pm 13th September

UK DRI Symposium
Friday 16th September, Dundee
Application of imaging, subcellular and single cell proteomics to dementia research

Reminders

- There is a template pinned to the Help channel in slack for requesting access for visiting students. Please use for all requests.

- ICT are retiring the File Exchange service on the 30th November. OneDrive for Business is the recommended alternative.

Tip of the week!

The Dementia Researcher is an online platform for ECRs. Sign up here and receive a dedicated weekly round-up of the latest news, events, and funding in the dementia research field!

