Aim:

The aim of this debate is to consider leadership development in our professional development programmes. In all sectors, including government, business, industry, and higher education, there is a pressing awareness of the global challenges facing society. The postgraduate domain plays a significant role in the education and development of the next generation of leaders for these sectors. How do we embed leadership development within our postgraduate programmes that creates societal and cultural awareness on a local and global level alongside an understanding of the impact of innovation?
